LOCAL CHILDREN'S AUTHORS SPEAK AT SOUTHCOAST HOSPICE'S SERIES: TRANSCENDING GRIEF THROUGH CREATIVE EXPRESSION

Authors Gretchen Pyne (Lulu's Rose Colored Glasses) and KD Larson (That Place) come together to instill messages of hope, healing through writing this Monday, November 14th, at Southcoast Hospice in Fairhaven. Together, they will share their experiences of loss and healing and encourage participants to discover new ways to transcend grief through expressive therapies like journaling, writing. Both authors whose personal experiences of loss inspired hopeful illustrated children's books brought them to the four part series to encourage creative healing strategies.
